

I would hope that the Do Not Call List in NJ remains the same...It's a pleasure to sit down and have dinner with your family without the two to five calls a night interrupting precious family time. Telemarketers can easily use the mail to forward information about their product.